Q The sixth floor being 60 feet above ground level, and that this bullet, Mr. Dymond, struck the man in the back at approximately five and three-eighth inches below the top of his collar and one and three-quarter inches to the right of the center seam, exited from his throat in the necktie area of this individual, then struck an individual in front of him seated in a car, entering the second individual in the back near the right armpit, going through his chest, fracturing the fifth rib, exiting from below the second individual's right nipple, past his right forearm, causing multiple fractures of the wristbone, leaving numerous fragments and then entering his left thigh --

MR. DYMOND:

I hate to interrupt Counsel in the middle of his question. It is axiomatic. A hypothetical question must stay within the bounds of the case. Counsel is doing what
